MAGNOLIA STORE

Being desirous of changing my business and place of residence, I offer my STORE at Magnolia Corners for Sale. I have my house and lot, convenient to the depot, and a large stock of three-room, well covered with Fruit trees, etc., consisting of about 100 Apple trees, in bearing (this orchard has produced 300 bushels in one season), in very good condition. Cherry trees, Siberian Russian Apples, a half dozen Pear trees, very thrifty. Currants, Raspberries, and Grapes, of different varieties. Strawberries and Grapes, I should prefer to sell the stock with the terms.
Will sell cheap for cash, or on easy terms.
If you wish to see the stock, call on me, or purchaser desired. It is a good point for country trade, but I have interests elsewhere that require my personal attention.

A REVOLUTIONARY SPIRIT.

The action of the Democrats in the House of Representatives on Monday shows plainly that they have neither honesty in their intentions nor any desire to see all the frauds of 1876 unearthed.
They exhibited a revolutionary spirit, and while they attempted to adopt their own resolutions in regard to Florida and Louisiana, they used their united force to crush all attempts of the Republicans to amend the resolution by adding thereto that drawn by Hale so that the frauds committed by the Democratic party might also be investigated. This shows the partisan spirit of the Bourbon Democrats. Talk about statesmanship! The work of the Democrats yesterday in the unsuccessful effort to ride rough shod one the Republicans, and to put their heels on a measure which has for its object the bringing to light of the frauds, the murders, the bribes, and the outrages committed by the Democratic party during the Presidential campaign of 1876, was never surpassed in baseness and moral degradation.

The opposition to the resolution by Hale and Garfield, on the ground that it was not a question of privilege, brought out some eloquent words from the latter which fairly made the Hall of the House ring.
But Speaker Randall, a plant tool in the hands of the Bourbons, and a partisan of the lowest order, decided in favor of the Democrats, which created a mob-like yell of approval from the Democracy. The gallant Hale, from Maine, engineered the matter for the Republicans and did his work well. An appeal was taken from the decision of the chair, but it was laid on the table by a vote of 128 to 108, which was strictly a party vote except that Ben. Butler who had enough dishonor in him to cast his lot with the Democrats.
The discussion on the resolution continued for some time, when a vote was taken, but justice beat the Democrats. The Republicans refused to vote and that left the House without a quorum. When the Speaker requested the Republicans to pass between the tellers and be counted, they held their seats firmly. A call of the House was then ordered by the Democrats, but that did not help them out, they still lacked twenty-seven votes of a quorum which gave the Republican the whip for the time being, and the damnable attempt of the Democrats to get their partisan resolution before the House, failed.

FLOUR MILLS EXPLOSION.

The remarkable explosion which took place in the flour mills at Minneapolis, on the 31 of May, has created a great deal of inquiry and discussion as to the cause of such an accident. An explosion more terrific and calamitous, could not have been created by the bursting of a steam boiler.
How the flour dust, which permeates all parts of the mill, could become so inflamed with gases as to explode with such tremendous force and with such destructive and deadly results, is a question which has not been understood by the public generally. But the records show that there are very many cases of this kind of explosion, and some of them have been very disastrous. A recent number of the Worcester Gazette gives a number of instances in which these accidents have occurred. The first explosion on record is that of the Tradestown Mills in Glasgow, Scotland, which was caused by the ignition of sparks from the friction of two of the stones, where the grain had been stopped. The sparks emitted from the stones which were revolving with great velocity, set the dust in the mill on fire, and an explosion instantly took place.
It came with such force that the gable ends of the stone mill were blown out completely, and the building reduced to ruins in a short time. This disaster was scientifically investigated, and the facts were clearly brought out by experiments and inquiry, that under certain conditions flour dust would explode, and with fearful results. Prof. McAdams says the composition of flour dust is chiefly starch and gluten, with small portions of gum, sugar, and oil, all of which contain carbon, hydrogen, and oxygen, and when brought in contact with fire, yield carbonic acid gases and "these gases necessarily occupy a greater space than the dust and air from which they are derived particularly under the high temperature produced by the burning, and their instantaneous expansion is called an explosion."

Within the past dozen years there have been eight prominent explosions of flour mills in this country, and all of them caused by the burning of this "flour dust." The mills of Champion, Adams & Co., were thus destroyed in Detroit, three years ago.
In 1864, a miller at the Macintosh mills, in Illinois, carried a lighted lamp to the middlings chest. The dust was ignited by the heat from the lamp, and the mill was burned to the ground. Large mills at St. Louis in 1868; at Evansville, Indiana, in 1875; at Dover, Kentucky, about the same time; at Milwaukee in 1869; and not long ago, at Binghamton, New York, a disastrous conflagration occurred, caused by the sparks from the stone igniting the flour dust. But of all the mill explosions in the history of this or any other country, that at Minneapolis is the most remarkable and the most disastrous.

United States Marshal Oakley and General Harden, Revenue Collector, made a raid on cigar manufacturers at San Prairie and Waterloo on Monday. They worked the matter very carefully and successfully.
Barth, of San Prairie, bought untaxed tobacco of farmers, made them into cigars which he peddled without Government stamps. His factory was seized, and he was arrested and taken to Madison, where he will be in jail until June, when the United States District Court meets, in which he will be tried. At Waterloo, a stock of untaxed cigars was seized at a saloon kept by W. J. Flinn. He was arrested and examined at Madison, and was held for trial in June.

He was unable to give bail and was committed. The penalty for making and selling cigars in violation of law, is the forfeiture of the buildings, land, stock and tools, and fine and imprisonment.
So the result of the trial cannot fail to be severe on Barth and Flinn. The State Journal says that other seizures and arrests are expected to be made soon.

The recent defalcations in Fall River, Massachusetts, which shocked the moral sense of the country, have brought out some interesting facts regarding the manufacture of cotton cloth in that city. The citizens of Janesville by a comparison of the mill here with those in Fall River, can appreciate the vastness of the cotton industry in the latter city. Fall River is the great cotton-spinning centre of America. The first cotton mill was built there in 1813, and had 896 spindles.
Then there were only about 200 inhabitants in the town. In 1840 the town had eight mills, with 32,084 spindles, and a population of 7000. But in 1870 there were eighteen factories, with the enormous number of 344,606 spindles, and 27,000 inhabitants. At the time of the defalcations of Chase and Hathaway, Fall River had 33,000 looms, 1,400,000 spindles and produced annually about 377 million yards of cloth. In the city are 16,000 operatives, the annual pay roll of which reaches five million dollars.

Miss Catharine Beecher, whose death we announced yesterday, was the eldest of Lyman Beecher's children, and was born September 6, 1800. In early life she was engaged to be married to Prof. Fisher, of Yale College, but he was stricken down by death before the wedding day arrived.
From that severe blow she never fully recovered, though she led a life of remarkable activity. Her education was thorough and her culture broad and commanding.
She spent several years as an educator, but most of her time was devoted to writing.
She is the author of a number of works of more or less value. But while they show considerable thought and culture, several of them are not practical, but theoretical.
The number of her publications prove that she led a life of great industry, and her labors in the direction of female Christian education were very successful.

At Annapolis, Maryland, occurred on Saturday, an event of peculiar interest to the officers, professors and cadets of the United States Naval Academy. George Bancroft, the historian, was Secretary of the Navy during the administration of James K. Polk, and it was through his influence and suggestion, that the Naval Academy was founded in 1845. Since then the Academy has been a powerful influence in strengthening the navy of the United States. On Saturday, Mr. Bancroft confided to pay a visit to the Academy—the first one since the institution was established in 1845—thirty-three years ago! Of course he was received with marked honors. The Marine band discoursed charming music, the guns of the Santee thundered a salute, and the officers and professors were in full uniform.

It is reported that General Butler will run for Governor of Massachusetts next fall on the National ticket. The General is "out" with the Republican party, and for the purpose of keeping in power and place, will espouse the cause of the Greenback and the Labor parties, and by their votes, and the few he can get from the Democrats, hopes to be elected. But Butler will never be Governor of Massachusetts.

The Milwaukee Sentinel of Monday, says: "The United States marshalship of Wyoming has been given to an Iowa man.
His Wisconsin's patent on territorial offices expired, or is Mr. Hayes surrounded by injudicious advisers? There are still men left in this State who would take a marshalship, even if the salary is restricted to $3000 a year. Governor Smith should see to this while he is in Washington."

James M. Brackett, editor of the Eau Claire Free Press, has been nominated by the President as postmaster. Brackett is being kindly remembered by the Government. Only a few years ago he was appointed to a good position in the Government Land Office at Eau Claire.

This is a bad mix-up on the Waterloo, (N. Y.) Observer: "Decorations Day will be observed in the usual manner at Arlington. Hon. Charles S. Wilson, of Wisconsin, will deliver the oration."

The House on Monday passed the bill to stop the coinage of three and five cent pieces; and also fixing the legal tender of subsidiary coin at $20.

The Belle of Washington in a Short Dress.
Washington Letter.

The wife of the Spanish minister recently walked in a jaunty short suit down the avenue. It is the first time the lady has condescended to tread our pavements, her carriage always being ready day and night.
The lady's new feat of pedestrianism was caused by the fact of the new walking dress which could be displayed in no other way. It came only to the ankles, was made very plain, and consisted of green velvet and bouffant, chip hat, with a wreath of hops, and amber lockcase of beads as big as peaches, and translucent as sunlight. Amber is to be the next rage; Egypt is being searched for the treasure which tradition calls the tears of the wandering Helen as-plundered and turned to yellow diamonds, light as air, yet solid as a gem. Donna Manilla soon goes to New York, and in May will go to Europe for the summer.
She holds her place of beauty, elegance and taste at the head of all foreign ladies in Washington. She is about 26 or 28 years old, voluptuous in form, fascinating in manner, with teeth white as pearls, eyes immense, liquid, luscious, jetty fringed; and has an odd, infatuated, stuffy, white whiskered husband.

The State Board of Charities and Reform Investigating the Delavan Scandal.

FROM MADISON.

Special Dispatch to the Janesville Gazette.
MADISON, May 14.—The State Board of Charities and Reform met in their rooms at the Capitol to-day, all members being present except Prof. Haskins and Rev. H. C.
Tilton, and organized as a board of investigation into the alleged Delavan scandal case. Testimony will be given this afternoon. Several of the officers of the Deaf and Dumb Asylum are here. In organizing all newspaper men were excluded and a proposition will be voted on this afternoon to admit reporters. Dr. Reed is in favor of such admission, but the probabilities are that all newspaper men will be excluded. The matter of the scandal will be thoroughly sifted.

THE FENIANS.

A Wild Rumor Afloat in Montreal—Distribution of Arms.

MONTREAL, May 13.—A rumor is in circulation on the streets, and believed by many of the lower classes, that an attempt will be made by the Fenians, next 12th of July, to visit Montreal especially if the Orangemen make arrangements to have a procession on that day. The volunteers are somewhat agitated about the matter, but are unanimous in a desire to be called to keep the peace, no matter what the issue may be. Another story to the effect that a raid will be made at some other point on some day when the military have their attention directed to Montreal, where it is thought their services will be required.
Colonel Fletcher, Department Adjutant-General, has received instructions from Ottawa to distribute arms to the volunteers along the American border.

THE MALCONTENTS.

They Attempt to Spring their Electoral Trap in the House—A Parliamentary Fight.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—The revolutionists have succeeded in obtaining the control of the Democratic party in the House of Representatives, and those of that political faith who agreed but a few months since that the decision of the Electoral Commission should be potential and final have to-day taken part in an inflammatory measure calculated to arouse the partisan passions of the people in other lands. Liberty has been "created by arms to-day and crushed by arms to-morrow." But it has been our boast that the will of the people, as lawfully expressed, has been always acquiesced in. Statesmanship and prudence have prompted the acquiescence by the defeated in the result, and it has been reserved for Samuel J. Tilden to have inaugurated measures calculated to plunge the country into wild disorder, and to unchain the wicked passions of civil strife. Mr. Hale and General Garfield resisted the introduction of the resolution stanchly on the ground that it was not a question of privilege, a State having no right to demand a hearing except through its Representatives on the floor.
Mr. Mills, a Democrat from Texas, took strong grounds that this was no question of privilege. He said that whatever power was vested in Congress in the matter of the election of President Hayes was tested in the Forty-fourth Congress, and when it spoke and declared the present incumbent elected, that was the end of it.
Other Representatives spoke, but at last the Speaker had to give his decision, and he elaborately ruled that a grievance from a sovereign State was the highest privilege that he could conceive of. The resolution down the Democratic side of the House and their claquers in the galleries. After some maneuvering, Mr. Conger appealed from the decision of the Chair, and the roll call was called. The appeal was laid on the table by 128 yeas against 108 nays. The vote was a strict party vote except that General Butler and Representative Fort, Republicans, voted with the Democrats to lay on the table, and Mills, of Texas, and Buckner, of Missouri, voted with the Republicans to set aside the Speaker's ruling.
A general debate ensued on the resolution. Among other objections raised, Gen.
Garfield insisted that the majority of the House could not authorize a Committee to sit during its recess, because when the House adjourned it carried its Committee with it, and the Committee could only be allowed to sit during a recess by the suspension of the rules of the House. Mr.
Saylor had read several precedents to show that frequently Committees had been authorized to sit during the recess by the vote of a majority of the House.
Mr. Hale and the Republicans in the House stood like a rock in opposition to this flagrant attempt at usurpation of power, and when it came to a vote they refused to aid in such one-sided legislation.
The vote was first a rising one, and the Democrats, springing to their feet, stood and were counted. Then the contrary mind was asked to stand up, and not a Republican rose.

"Tellers," shouted the Democrats, and when the gentlemen designated to act to that capacity had taken their stands, the Democrats filed between them and were counted, but when those otherwise minded were invited to go between the tellers and be counted, not a man started from his seat. "Will the gentlemen pass between the tellers?" said the Speaker in a persuasive tone of voice.
"Yes," responded a Republican, "we pass."
The result, as announced, showed that only the friends of the resolution had voted.
Then it was that Mr. Hale, stepping into the aisle, announced that there was no quorum sitting, and a call of the House was ordered, pages were sent to the committee rooms, and there was a general mustering of the Democratic clans, but it was of no avail. One hundred and forty-seven votes constitute a quorum of the House, and only 120 Democrats could be mustered. This gave the Republicans the whip hand some filibustering, and Mr.
Hale engineered their admirable. Potter, who was much chagrined, did his level best but it was of no avail. He was twenty-seven votes short, and he finally moved an adjournment, in the hope that to to-morrow he may secure them. If he does, he will pass his resolution unopposed. If he does not, he must receive Hale's amendment, or abandon the Tilden bantling.

JACK FROST.

Reports from Various Points in Wisconsin of the Damages by Sunday Night's Freeze.
WATERTOWN, Wis., May 13.—Last night a severe frost visited this vicinity, ice having formed a quarter of an inch thick by daylight this morning. Apple, plum and cherry trees are somewhat injured, although it is hoped, not seriously. Barley has been damaged some, and also potato vines. Fortunately, but little corn has been planted in this section as yet, to be cut down. Wheat continues to look finely, if we except some pieces on low lands, the growth of which has been retarded on account of the recent continued wet weather.
Pasturage is splendid, grass never before being forward in this section at this time of the year. Taken altogether, the hay and grain crop is most promising.

LAKE GENEVA, May 13.—A severe frost visited this region last night, killing garden vegetation to some extent, and injuring cherry trees slightly.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 13.—There was a heavy frost throughout the State; last night. Considerable damage was done to corn, potatoes, and garden stuff. Some counties also report great injury to fruit.

SPARTA, May 13.—Quite a heavy frost appeared here last night, doing considerable damage to vegetation. Corn, potatoes, and other things of garden growth were cut down to the ground. Grapes were also injured. This degree of destruction extended down the LaCrosse valley to the Mississippi river.

WHITEWATER, May 13.—A heavy white frost fell in this region last night, and ice an eighth of an inch formed in the open air. Fruit, corn, potatoes, and vegetables suffered badly.

MADISON, May 13.—Heavy frosts visited portions of this section of Wisconsin on Saturday and Sunday nights, doing considerable damage to garden stuff, potatoes and fruit in unsheltered parts, but in the city vegetation was not injured materially.
The ground was frozen a quarter of an inch thick, and ice was formed on ponds in the suburbs of the city. Persons arriving from Rock county report great injury to fruit in that region.

ABDUCTED.

A Young Boy Rescued from a Party of Tramps Near La Crosse.

LA CROSSE, May 13.—A young boy named Willie Marsh, was rescued last night from a party of tramps who had entered him from his home in Cambridge, Ohio. The party has been occupying a barn in the outskirts of the city for several days, compelling the boy to beg food for them. The facts of his abduction were first learned from the boy, who had the attention of Postmaster Seymour called to him by telegrams of inquiry of the parents. The boy was taken from the tramps, and now awaits the arrival of his father.

A Female Tichborne.

A Tichborne case on a small scale was recently decided in Butler county, Pennsylvania. Thirty years ago a young girl named Emily was forced to leave her home near Gettysburg, in that county. All traces of her were lost, and it was believed by her parents, brothers, and sisters that she was dead. A few weeks ago a woman appeared at the old homestead, which, in consequence of the oil discoveries, has become valuable, and claimed to be the long-lost Emily. Her claim was at first admitted by the family. In a few days, owing to conflicting stories which the woman told, doubt was thrown upon her identity, and she was dismissed as an impostor. She then brought suit to recover her share of the estate. A large amount of testimony was introduced, showing that the claimant was Margaret Hill, daughter of George Hill, of New York, and not Emily Ward. The gentlemen jury was forced to conclude, where she died in 1858. These facts were brought out so distinctly as to completely nonplus the pretender, and were so satisfactory to the jury that they brought in a verdict for defendants. About a dozen of the best lawyers in the State were employed on either side. The estate is valued at $300,- 000.

Women as Farmers.

When so much talk is had over what women have a right to do, it is pleasant to note the work which some women have done. Last year one of the eight prementured by the Royal Agricultural Society of England for the best managed farm in the district in which the annual exhibition is held, was awarded to a woman farmer, Mrs. Ellen Birch, for a farm of 242 acres of arable land near Ainstee. The farm which is characteristic of the surrounding region, is nearly level and is divided into fields of thirty acres each by neatly kept hedges, and a light and easy work is done, naturally dry. No stock of any consequence is kept, as town manure is cheaply brought out to the land by a canal from Liverpool, for which market the products of the land are intended.
The rent paid is £5, say about $25 an acre.
The course of cropping is as follows: First, potatoes, after leas; second, wheat; third, barley, or oats, sown with grass seed; fourth, hay; fifth, any after which the land is again broken out and planted with potatoes. The potato crop now on the ground is spoken of as "simply splendid." And it is on the potatoes that all the town and home made and town manure is applied, sometimes with the addition of nitrate of soda. The grain crop, especially the oats, were very heavy. Fifteen men and lads are employed, at sixteen and seventeen shillings a week and cottage rent.

Heavy crops of hay are grown, and taken this is over for the season, sheep are kept into grass for local salemen, at sixpence per week.

A Tranquil Nervous System.

Can never be possessed by those whose digestive and assimilative organs are in a state of chronic disorder. Weak stomachs make weak nerves.
To restore vigor and quietude to the latter, the first must be invigorated and regulated. The ordinary sedatives may tranquilize the nerves for a while, but they can never, like Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, remove the causes of nervous debility. That superb invigorant and corrective of disordered conditions of the alimentary organs has also the effect of imparting tone to the nerves. The delicate tissues of which they are constituted, when weakened in consequence of imperfect digestion and assimilation, draw strength from the fund of vitality developed in the system by the Bitters, which imparts the required impetus to the nutritive functions of the stomach, enriches the circulation, and gives tone and regularity to the secretive and excretive organs.

CATARRH IS IT CURABLE?
Those who have suffered from the various and complicated forms of Catarrh, and have tried many physicians and remedies without relief or cure, will find the answer to this question in the following statement: "I have been cured of Catarrh, Brounchitis, Asthma, Coughs, and serious and frequently fatal cases of simple and complicated Catarrh. Other sympathetic affections such as Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, and loss of voice, and in fact, every ailment connected with the Catarrh of the throat and lungs, have been cured by the use of the medicine." IT CAN BE CURED.

A COMPLICATED CASE.
General James H. Lawrence, of the 1st Maine Cavalry, writes: "I have been suffering from Catarrh of the throat and lungs for many years, and have tried many physicians and remedies without relief or cure. I have been cured of Catarrh, Brounchitis, Asthma, Coughs, and serious and frequently fatal cases of simple and complicated Catarrh. Other sympathetic affections such as Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, and loss of voice, and in fact, every ailment connected with the Catarrh of the throat and lungs, have been cured by the use of the medicine." IT CAN BE CURED.

Indorsed by a Prominent Druggist.
I hereby certify that Mr. Lawrence purchased the Catarrh Cure of my store, and that he has been cured of Catarrh, Brounchitis, Asthma, Coughs, and serious and frequently fatal cases of simple and complicated Catarrh. Other sympathetic affections such as Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, and loss of voice, and in fact, every ailment connected with the Catarrh of the throat and lungs, have been cured by the use of the medicine." IT CAN BE CURED.

PIANO-FORTE
REPAIRING!
Mr. G. W. HERSEE

IS NOW PREPARED TO DO ALL KINDS OF PIANO-FORTE Repairing, such as Re-stringing, Re-pinning and Voicing, supplying of broken parts, new sets of strings for all styles of instruments, and new actions will be furnished. This class of work has heretofore been neglected in this section of the State.

THE LADIES OF THE SEVENTH DAY BAPTIST CHURCH will hold a Strawberry and ice cream festival at their church on this (Thursday) evening. The public are cordially invited to favor the ladies with a liberal patronage, and no pains will be spared to make the entertainment an enjoyable occasion.

Subscription for the Gazette instead of sending the reading of it. One of the seniors recently visited a college town in this State, and at the residence where he was a guest, received an invitation to say grace, but being little versed in the ceremony, and withal quite modest, declined to officiate. It so happened that a young lady was present who is a member of the graduating class of the college in that town, thought best to exhibit her knowledge of Biblical lore and asked our senior who made the acts of the Apostles? He ventured the opinion that St. Paul was the author, whereupon the young lady laughed him to scorn and berated him for his lack of familiarity with the Bible informing him that St. Luke was the author of the Acts of the Apostles. The senior demanded and ordered to wager a Bible against the lady's breast pin that he was correct. She accepted and a visit to a neighboring clergyman was made. The Reverend gentleman decided that the fair gambler had lost, much to her discomfort, but the senior failed to get his winnings. Moral—Don't wager too much on a Milton senior's familiarity with the good book.

VEGETINE
For Dropsy.
Dr. H. R. STEVENS, CENTRAL FALLS, R. I., Oct. 14, 1877. It is a pleasure to give my testimony for your valuable medicine. I was sick for a long time with dropsy, under the doctor's care. He said it was Water between the Heart and Liver. I received no benefit until I commenced taking the Vegetine. In fact, I was growing worse. I have tried many remedies; they did not help me. Vegetine is the medicine for Dropsy. I began to feel better after the first bottle. I have taken thirty bottles in all. I am perfectly well, never felt better. No one can feel more thankful than I do. I am, dear Sir, grateful, yours, A. D. WHEELER.

TUESDAY, MAY 14, 1878.

CITY AND COUNTY.

BRIEFLETS.

The Police Club meet to-night.

The police force are having a rest but no arrests.

Ed. Reed, the drummer of the Bower City Band, has returned from Kansas City.

Clement Brothers and Forrester engaged the Opera house for May 18, but have since concluded to cancel the engagement.

An interesting statement of the condition of the Fire Department is to be found in the report of last night's Council proceedings.

Remember the festival at Lappin's hall to-night for the benefit of St. Mary's church. The occasion will be worthy of a liberal patronage.

The Janesville Horticultural Society will hold a meeting at the City Clerk's office next Friday evening at 8 o'clock, for the transaction of very important business.

Mr. I. Kierner, a brakeman on the Monroe train, fell off from a car this morning as the train was passing Hanover Junction. He escaped with a slight injury of the wrist.

The weather is warming up for the strawberry festival of All Souls. The ladies of that society are preparing for the annual kindness in that direction which is always appreciated.

A camel was born on Burr Robbins' farm yesterday, it being the first such case on record in the Northern States. Mother and child are doing nicely. No name has yet been found to christen the young one with.

The committee on the Lawler monument met last evening, and reported that $250 had been pledged. A sub-committee of five were chosen to select a suitable monument to commemorate the brave death of the young man.

At the meeting of the Round Table to-morrow evening the subject will be "Fiction, Legend, and Fairy Literature." Messrs. Rexford, Dunwiddie, and Sawin and Misses Hobart, Sayles, and Jeffries will participate.

As predicted in yesterday's Gazette, one of the angle-worms, yesterday slipped into the water, and was badly doused. He turned himself into a clothes-horse, and by the time he reached home last night, the garments were nearly dried.

Music-lovers should not forget the Hessian Band Concert at the Opera house next Friday evening. It will be a rare treat, and is the best opportunity to hear these celebrated musicians before they depart for Europe. They merit a large house.

Mrs. Daggett, who is to deliver the lecture on Raphael, before the M. I. C. Friday night, has one of the most valuable private collections of art books and pictures in Chicago, gathered during several sojourns among the European galleries. She will bring some of her finest views along.

The Milton Dramatic Club are arranging to give another entertainment at the residence of Mr. J. R. Bennett, Friday evening, May 24. A comedy, "Every Inch a Gentleman," will be presented, also a character sketch entitled "Contest." Some choice instrumental and vocal music will be given, and several character songs.

The temperance workers at Whitewater recently purchased of Burr Robbins a large tent with the view of holding meetings therein. The weather has been such that it could not be occupied but a few times, and there has been a necessary outlay of several dollars a day for three weeks to watch the canvas, day and night.

Mr. Burr Robbins arrived this morning. Mrs. Robbins is somewhat improved in health.

Everybody, friend or foe, whether hard up or flush, is requested to present all bills or demands against him and against the Spring Brook Temple, at John Griffith's store to-morrow May 15. Mr. Robbins will be there from 10 o'clock a. m. till 12 m., but anyone having bills can leave them there for his approval and payment, at any hour. He desires to settle all accounts at once.

BURGLARS STILL AT IT.

Last evening about 11 o'clock a girl in the family of Mr. John Kelly, who resides on Main street, noticed two men entering the wooden mall of F. A. Wheeler & Son, nearly opposite Mr. Kelly's house, and deeming their way of ingress through the office window decidedly suspicious, gave the alarm. Mr. Kelly, who had just returned home, started after the fellows, but they took to their heels most enthusiastically. He chased one of them on to Bluff street when he lost track of him. An examination of the premises showed that the scamps had managed to secure two bolts of cloth, valued at about $60. As the man whom Kelly chased had no such bundles, it is probable that his companion had them or else the thieves dropped them in some secure hiding place.

A BURGLAR SHOT.

An incident occurred at Watertown yesterday morning about two o'clock which shows the kind of men that Burr Robbins has with him. Two fellows broke into a house near where the show was and were just getting away with a lot of clothing, when John Reagen, one of Robbins' men who was standing on guard, and on the lookout for just such fellows, managed to collar one of them, and held him on the ground while he cooly fired at the retreating form of the other burglar. He managed to send a bullet through his arm, and brought down his game. Both burglars were looked up. Two citizens of Watertown were greatly pleased at this display of coolness and courage, and with the interest thus manifested in preserving order, and a prevention of crimes.

MEETING OF THE BAR.

To the Members of the Bar of Rock County: A meeting of the members of the bar of Rock County will be held at the Court room on Thursday, the 16th inst., at 12 o'clock noon. A full attendance is desired. H. S. CONGER.

OBITUARY.

WM. M. TALLMAN.

Yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock, Mr. William Morrison Tallman died at his residence in the First Ward, having reached the age of sixty-nine years and eleven months. Mr. Tallman has not been blessed with very robust health for some years past, but no immediately alarming disease attacked him until about the first of April. A month previously he started on a trip for pleasure and health. He reached New Orleans in safety and after spending a short time there went to Washington where he was enjoying himself in greeting friends and sight-seeing, when a cold which he had, became aggravated, and increased greatly his asthmatic difficulties, and finally reached the heart. He hastened to New York where he was cared for at the residence of his brother. His eldest son hastened from this city to his bedside, the best medical aid and the most careful attentions were given him, but the disease refused to give way. Week before last he had however gained sufficiently to enable him to be removed to his home here, where he arrived in company with his son and physician, one week ago last Friday. Since then he has been gradually failing until yesterday when death put an end to his sufferings and to his usefulness.

Mr. Tallman was a native of New York, being born in Lee, Oneida county, June 13, 1808, his parents being David and Eunice Tallman, both natives of Woodbury, Conn., from whence they removed to New York in 1806. Ten years later the family removed to Brooklyn, where Mr. Tallman, in 1821, began the study of law in the office of Hon. F. A. Talmadge, on the old site of the Astor House. Deeming it advisable to secure a better preliminary education, he went the following year to an academy in Norwalk, Conn., and after four years preparation there, entered Yale College, where he graduated in 1830. After a two years course in the Yale Law School, he was admitted to the bar in New Haven. During his course in the law school, in 1831, he married at New Haven, Miss Emeline Dexter, of Hartford county Conn., and at the end of his course, commenced practice in New York, in the office of Hon. James Talmadge & W. H. Bulkley. In 1833 he removed to Rome, New York, and continued there in the practice of law until 1850, when he removed to this city, where he continued practice until 1854, and where he has resided till the time of his death.

In October, 1843, two years before coming West, he purchased at public auction large tracts of land in Green, Lafayette, Grant and Iowa counties in this State, and soon after added other large purchases in those counties, and also in this county making altogether about ten thousand acres. This was the foundation of that competency which has been his, for the land rose rapidly in value, enabling him in a very few years to dispose of many of them at a great advance, seldom less than quadruple their cost, and generally much more than that. For instance, some of this land, near Monroe, which he purchased at $6.50 per acre, he laid out in town lots, as an addition to Monroe, and sold them so that they netted him about $1500 per acre. In this way he had acquired a sufficient competency so that he did not deem it desirable to pursue the practice of law, but though he dropped that profession in 1854, he has been always since actively employed, but wholly with his own enterprises. He has devoted much time to developing, improving and disposing of real-estate, and many of these improvements were on property in this city.

Although he never deemed political distinctions, nor official positions distinctions, objects of pursuit, or congenial to his tastes, and in spite of his persistent declarations of such proffered distinctions, he was induced by the solicitation of many friends in both political parties, to occupy during a considerable portion of ten or fifteen years, the positions of alderman and county commissioner, that the interests of city and county, in which he was largely concerned, might be duly cared for and protected.

Although in no sense a politician, his feelings and sympathies were with the Whig party from 1835 to 1838, and he was always an outspoken and enthusiastic abolitionist, and since the organization of the Republican party in Wisconsin in 1854, he has acted with it. He was at one time an active co-worker with Rev. Wm. Goodell, who died in this city a short time ago, and was mobbed at one time in Utica New York, for his fearlessness in uttering his convictions. He worked earnestly but unconstitutionally for the establishment of the principles of his political creed and deemed himself sufficiently rewarded by seeing these principles triumph, without seeking any further reward by political honors, or official positions.

Among those left to mourn his death besides his bereaved companion, are two sons, William H. Tallman and Edward D. Tallman, both of whom are well-known and highly respected residents of this city. His only daughter was married to Mr. John P. Beach in 1865, and settled in Chicago, where she died the following year.

Mr. Tallman was a member of the First Congregational church of this city, he and his wife having joined that denomination at Rome, New York, and removed thither by letter. He has always been an exemplary and honored member, and outside as well as inside the church has been greatly respected and admired. In his personal habits he was pure, in his business enterprises straight-forward and energetic, and his labors have been crowned with success. He has always occupied a prominent position in social and in business circles, although naturally of a retiring disposition and having a strong distaste for any ostentation. His death will be a great loss to the community, and the bereaved ones will have the heartfelt sympathies of many. He was always deeply interested in all that concerned the growth or prosperity of the city and county, and coupled cautiousness with wise counsel, and an industrious persistency in pushing forward all enterprises which he deemed wise and expedient, and of benefit to the public.

As will be noticed by a formal call published in another column, a meeting of the bar will be held Thursday noon to take appropriate action concerning the death of Mr. Tallman.

The funeral services will be held at the house next Thursday afternoon at two o'clock.

A SUDDEN DEATH.

Mr. Jacob Rosenfeld, a well known citizen, died suddenly at about half-past 2 o'clock this afternoon. For about a year Mr. Rosenfeld has been suffering from lung troubles, and a short time ago went South with the hope of recovering his health, at least in part. He returned about a month ago somewhat improved and strengthened, but by no means well. Still he was able to be about, and attended as usual to business. Yesterday he had a chill, but this morning was feeling better, and went as usual to his store. This afternoon he complained of not feeling well, and said he would go over to his room in Church's block and lie down, and requested one of his clerks to come over there in a little while. The clerk did so, and on entering the room found Mr. Rosenfeld lying upon the floor, and bleeding profusely from the mouth and nostrils. He lifted him upon the bed, and Dr. Judd, his physician, was summoned. He came at once but before he could reach the room, Mr. Rosenfeld was dead. The physician pronounced it a severe hemorrhage, some blood vessel about the lungs having suddenly burst, and caused death.

Mr. Rosenfeld was an unmarried man about forty-two years of age. He came to this city early in 1876 and bought out the liquor and tobacco store of Mr. John Dunn. He has brothers living in Oregon, and a married sister living in Baltimore, who have been notified by telegraph of the sad occurrence. Only last week Mr. Rosenfeld went to Chicago to meet one of his brothers who had been East, and was on his return journey accompanied by his bride. The sad tidings will come with suddenness to his friends, who have not anticipated his immediate death, though they have been of course greatly concerned about his death.

WELCOME TO ROBBINS.

His Successful Career and his Coming To-morrow—A Terrible Encounter Between a Tiger and a Lioness—What a Traveller Saw and Heard.

To-morrow Burr Robbins will pitch his tent in Janesville and will give the people of this vicinity a chance to see the wonders of the cage and the ring. He will be welcomed to Janesville most heartily, for where he is best known, there he is the greatest favorite. The people have been looking forward to his coming with great expectations, and they will not be disappointed in the least, as his collection of curiosities is much larger than ever, and his company the best he has ever taken out. During his two weeks absence he has had houses crowded almost to overflowing, and in many instances he has been obliged to stop the sale of tickets and turn hundreds away, for Mr. Robbins is just that kind of a man. Some managers would sell tickets just as long as there were buyers, regardless of how or when they could get under the canvas, but he does not propose to have the view of those who have seats, obstructed by a crowd of standing spectators, just for the sake of taking in a few more hundred dollars. Mr. Robbins, although he has met with marked success in other seasons, never entered upon such a successful season as this. In spite of unfavorable weather he has had crowds, and they have all expressed themselves as more than satisfied. Another well-merited tribute to Mr. Robbins' enterprise, is the fact that many have come scores of miles to witness the show. As has been remarked before in the Gazette, it behooves the people of this city and vicinity to give him a rousing benefit. Mr. Robbins expends large sums of money in and about Janesville, and his enterprise is an honor as well as a help to Janesville in all respects. There are no public enterprises but which Mr. Robbins gladly and liberally aids, both by time and money, and now is presented an excellent opportunity for the citizens to show that they appreciate this fact, by giving him a crowd. Everyone should gladly head in his half-dollar, for besides other reasons, the show is in itself worthy of it, and everyone will get the full worth of the money. Let the tent be crowded with people, and the bill filled with silver.

A TERRIBLE ENCOUNTER.

Yesterday morning about 7 o'clock as Burr Robbins' circus was on the way from Watertown to Jefferson, a large Bengal tiger and an Asiatic lioness managed in some way to get at each other, and a bloody fight ensued. The tigers grabbed the lioness by the throat, and twenty men armed with poles and pikes were unable to separate them, until the lioness was killed. When the tigers were removed, the lioness was found with her throat cut, and the ham on the right side about half devoured. The carcass laid yesterday on exhibition near the cage, and the tiger, apparently satisfied with his bloody work remained in his cage, perfectly docile, and indulging in a complacent doze. Mr. Robbins estimates his loss at $1,000.

CLEANED BY A TRAVELER.

A letter received from a gentleman who has been travelling about the country of late says:

"In travelling through the country, in places where Robbins' circus has already given an exhibition, I found every indication of general satisfaction, no complaints of drunkenness, no reports of burglaries or other crimes. In visiting places where the aggregation is soon to make its advent, I found no fears from the hangers-on, which usually cling to, and follow the average circus, no fixing of locks, or priming revolvers. Every body seemed to anticipate a day of recreation, without its general demoralizing influences. I found also, many persons unaccustomed to attending circuses, who have made up their mind to patronize the Robbins exhibition, being an evidence of high appreciation."

CITY CONCERNS.

An Interesting Report of the Fire Department, by Chief Engineer Young.

Other Matters of Interest to Taxpayers, and the Business Done by the Council.

The regular semi-monthly meeting of the Common Council was held last evening at the City Hall, His Honor, Mayor Norcross in the chair, and all the members present, except Aids. Joyce and McKinney.

The Journal of the last regular and special meetings were read and approved.

The Clerk read sundry bills against the various funds, which were referred to the appropriate committees; among them one from A. A. Dresser, for four months' services as engineer of No. 1 engine, which was referred to the fire committee. [This bill was the same time and services as the bill of Aid. Fitzgibbon.]

The following quarterly report of the Chief Engineer of the Fire Department, was received and referred to the fire committee:

JANESVILLE, May 13, 1878.

To the Mayor and Common Council, City of Janesville:

CHARLES—I respectfully submit the following report of the condition of the Fire Department at this date:

The inspection held May 3d, at which many of you were present, was very satisfactory. The houses and apparatus were clean and in the best order.

The time consumed in hitching up ready for a fire, will compare favorably with that of any department in the State. The figures having been published are omitted.

The discipline is as good as could be wished, and as soon as the companies keep the spirit of rivalry now existing, they will be prompt at all times.

A few minor repairs will place the department in as good condition as the present appropriation for its maintenance will admit. The fund for the present year being exhausted, repairs will be delayed until the next tax levy is collected, except those absolutely necessary.

There are 4100 feet of hose and 2,000 feet of old hose that is serviceable when placed upon the fire, giving the department a change after every fire so that the hose is kept in good condition.

The fire alarm put up by the First side company is working satisfactorily. Every member of the alarm is ready to respond to the alarm. It reaches the engine house. Before its introduction the force and direction of the wind was delayed and sometimes kept many from hearing the alarm at all, and crippled the department at the time when all its force was needed. There are sixteen stations, at any of which an alarm can be sent direct to the engine house, which places nearly all sections of the First side in direct communication with the fire department, and a saving of many minutes in the transmission of the alarm, and a corresponding promptness in getting the apparatus to a fire, which will prevent any fire from getting started. I believe it is for the interest of the citizens on the West side of the city to have the alarm system in that side of the city, and I respectfully ask that the subject be referred to a committee for investigation.

I would recommend that ventilating flues be placed in the walls over the stables to carry away the heat from the city. A purchase of teams for drawing the engines, such teams to be used as at present, doing city work. I believe that instead of carrying the city fire, hired dollars as at present the city would derive an income large enough to soon pay for the purchase.

Also that a Bangor extension ladder long enough to reach the Myers house roof, be purchased. The truck and its can be changed for a few dollars to carry it. It is simple in its working, eight men can raise it in six minutes and can reach any height. The ladder is used for the purpose of saving life or carrying home in case of fire. Such a ladder will cost about $175. There are a large number of tax payers who will not protect their property. The fire department should be built in such localities so that all may be protected. The Fire Department will only pay the running expenses and keep up the necessary repairs. I would respectfully suggest that the city purchase the ladder and have it built from some other fund.

[I will submit a schedule of property in the hands of the several companies and the condition of the same.—RECORDED.]

Very Respectfully,

W. P. YOUNG, Chief Engineer.

Aid. Davies, from the judiciary committee, reported back the report of the Police Justice for April, as correct. Report placed on file.

Aid. Davies, from the same committee, reported back the bill of Hon. J. B. Casaday, stating that the committee had examined the records and found the bill to be just and legal, and recommended the same to be referred to the finance committee. Reported adopted.

Aid. Davies, from the same committee, reported back the bill of Dr. Horne, with-out any recommendation, stating that the committee had examined the records and could find nothing upon which the claim could be raised. The alderman further stated that it was well known at the time, and understood by the Council, that Dr. Horne was to furnish the pound free of costs to the city. The report was adopted.

Aid. Davies read the ordinance in relation to the duties of the pound master, and then moved that the City Attorney be instructed to examine the records and report to the council at the next meeting, whether or not, an action can be maintained against Dr. Horne for not complying with said ordinance, in his failure to make the necessary reports. Adopted.

Aid. Hutchinson, from the committee on schools, reported back the April report of the Board of Education, as correct. Order published and placed on file.

Aid. Lawrence, from the finance committee, reported in favor of paying sundry bills, which was concurred in and orders authorized.

Aid. Vankirk, from the fire committee, reported in favor of extending the fire alarm telegraph to the West side engine house, in accordance with the petition of Washington Engine Company and Rescue Hook & Ladder Company, and moved that the work be done under the supervision of the chief engineer and fire committee, at a cost not to exceed $45.

After some random debate in relation to a further extension of the line, the matter was referred back to the fire committee to ascertain the costs of the proposed extension.

Aid. Lawrence, from the finance committee, reported back the report of the city treasurer for March, as correct. Placed on file.

On motion of Aid. Hutchinson, the liquor license of Frank Richards was transferred from 63 West Milwaukee street, to 32 East Milwaukee street.

Aid. Fitzgibbon, from the gas committee, asked for further time in relation to the erection of lamp posts. Granted.

The application of W. J. Marshall, J. Reublin, M. Ehringer, for liquor license was received, and referred to license and judiciary committee, also the application of Thomas Welch.

Aid. Vankirk offered an order for the trading of certain lots owned by the city, with Oak Hill Cemetery. Referred to the judiciary committee for investigation.

Aid. Lawrence offered an order, authorizing the monthly payment of city officials without further action by the Council. Adopted.

Aid. Lawrence moved to reconsider the vote of the last meeting disallowing the bill of Aid. Fitzgibbon. Adopted.

Aid. Lawrence moved that the bill be allowed.

Aid. Wilcox moved that the bill be referred to the fire committee stating that engineer Dresser had a bill before that committee for the same service. This statement brought out a statement of the facts by Aid. Fitzgibbon, and a sharp personal colloquy between him and Aid. Wilcox followed, in which the latter gentlemen apologized for his hasty and unparliamentary language. The motion to refer was lost.

The original motion was lost—Ayes 5; noes 2.

The whole matter was then referred to the fire committee, to report at the next meeting.

Aid. Davies from the judiciary committee, reported back the applications of Marshall, Ehringer, Reublin and Welch, for license, stating the bonds were correct, and sureties good, and recommending that license be granted. The report was adopted.

Aid. Vankirk moved that the ordinance in relation to liquor selling be enforced. This motion caused considerable debate, but was unanimously adopted.

The Council adjourned.

THE CIRCUIT COURT.

Morton Secures Damages for a Broken Leg—Some Other Cases of Interest.

This morning the case of Morton against Smith and others, for damages occasioned by the plaintiff's falling down and breaking his leg upon the sidewalk of the Jackson block, was submitted to the jury, with full instructions by the Court on the legal principles involved. This suit has attracted considerable interest, by reason of the large amount of damages claimed, and the important questions raised in regard to the liability of lot-owners under the circumstances of this case. About noon to-day the "infallible twelve" returned a verdict for the plaintiff, and assessed his damages at eleven hundred dollars. The amount of the verdict is not at all excessive, as it clearly appeared that the plaintiff was seriously injured. But the defendants claim that he was not legally entitled to any verdict, and it is quite probable that they will appeal the case to the Supreme Court.

In Michael Murphy against Michael Craven, an action for defamation of character, the jury assessed the plaintiff's damages at $25.00. There was no appearance for the defendant.

In the suit of Johnson against Grant judgment was given in favor of the plaintiff for the amount claimed in the complaint.

The Beloit water case, which was on trial for several days last week, was settled this morning, the parties agreeing to pay the plaintiff a reasonable sum for the flowage of his lands by their dam.

IN HIS NEW FIELD.

The many friends of Rev. George Wallace, who lately resigned the pastorate of Trinity Episcopal church in this city, to accept a call from St. Paul's church, Waterloo, New York, will gladly learn concerning his new field of labor. It appears from the Waterloo Observer, that Mr. Thomas Fatzinger, who recently died in that place, has bequeathed to St. Paul's church $26,000, besides various smaller sums to other church purposes. Another item of interest in an issue of the same paper, dated May 1, is the following notice concerning Mr. Wallace:

On Sunday last a large congregation assembled at St. Paul's church, to greet and welcome Rev. Mr. Wallace at his first service in his new parish. Possessing a fine presence and a pleasant voice, a good reader, and judging from his first sermon which was admirably adapted to the occasion—an able writer, his first sermon was calculated to impress favorably all who were present. We trust the relations just entered upon may prove mutually agreeable to pastor and people and a blessing to the parish.

THE WEATHER.

The thermometer at 7 o'clock stood at 49 degrees above, and at 2 o'clock at 64 degrees above. Clear. One year ago to-day at corresponding hours the thermometer stood at 46 and 73 degrees above.

The indications are, northerly winds, falling barometer, cooler, cloudy and rainy weather, preceding an area of low pressure.

The Wheeler & Wilson No. 8.

The No. 8 is not the old style Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine improved or changed, but is an entirely new invention. The old style Wheeler & Wilson has a curved needle—the No. 8 has a straight one. In the old style Wheeler & Wilson the work feeds to the right; in the No. 8 it feeds back, or from the operator.

The No. 8 possesses many points of superiority over any other machine. It is, taking everything into consideration, the cheapest machine in the market. All those interested in sewing machines will do well to examine this marvel of mechanical ingenuity. Liberal terms given to sewing machine dealers residing in unoccupied territory. Address
